

Students from Stivers School for the Arts performed at the St. Vincent de Paul Home Coming Dinner.

Contributed Photo

ST. VINCENT'S HOSTS HOMECOMING

Seen & Overheard

Wednesday, April 21, 2010

It's hard to come up with a unique fundraiser, but the folks at St. Vincent de Paul did a fine job when they hosted their first "Home Coming Dinner" on Friday, April 16, at the Annunciation Greek Orthodox Church. About 170 supporters attended.

The "homey" event featured everything from home-style cooking and service to home-style entertainment, with talented Muse Machine grads and students from Stivers School for the Arts, who presented the touching "Prayer for the Children." The Stivers students served as wait staff as well.

Table centerpieces were baskets filled with much-needed items for the homeless -- toothbrushes, diapers, hand sanitizers. The highlights of the evening, of course, were the personal stories from two individuals whose lives were changed by the "home" provided by the important organization.

-- Meredith Moss, Staff Writer

Seen & Overheard runs daily. Have an item for us? Call Amelia Robinson at (937) 225-2384 or drop an e-mail to arobinson@DaytonDailyNews.com . Want to see and hear more?

Read the Seen & Overheard blog at DaytonDailyNews.com/go/seenandoverheard